

MAN CRITICALLY HURT IN CRASH AT ANDALUSIA

Earl R. Ennis, Phila., Is In Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia

LOST CONTROL OF CAR Vehicle Went Across Road and Hit Car of Francis Bergmaier

Three adults and two children were hurt in an accident in Andalusia, Bristol Pike, near Penn street, Saturday evening at about 10 o'clock. One of the adults, Earl R. Ennis, of Philadelphia, is in a critical condition in Nazareth hospital.

The accident occurred when Ennis, driver of the car, in which his step-father, Rene Schmitt, also of Philadelphia, was a passenger, lost control of the machine. The Ennis car went directly across the highway and sideswiped an automobile driven by Francis Bergmaier, who was accompanied by his wife, Dorothy, and two children, Ogden Avenue, Cornwells Heights. Both cars were wrecked. The accident was investigated by Police Officer, Englebert Smith, Bensalem township, and the injured were taken to the Frankford and Nazareth hospitals by the Bucks County Rescue Squad.

The injured: Earl R. Ennis, 35, 3007 N. Sixth street, Philadelphia, fractured skull, brain injury and internal injuries, Nazareth hospital. Francis Bergmaier, 27, Philadelphia, lacerations of the head, chest, eight stitches required in face injury, Frankford hospital. Rene Schmitt, 54, of 3010 N. Fourth street, Philadelphia, deep cut over right eye, treated at Nazareth hospital. Francis Bergmaier, Jr., 15 months, Theresa Bergmaier, three years, numerous cuts, treated by local physician.

A trio of Philadelphia young women and a youth were removed to Nazareth hospital, Philadelphia, early yesterday morning after an accident in which they were involved.

American and Troop Flags To Be Given To Scouts

FALLSINGTON, Mar. 10 — A meeting of Falls twp., American Legion Auxiliary was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Clifford Watson. Mrs. William Loebner, president. Mrs. Frank Maybury read minutes in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Arthur Ventrice. Mrs. Watson gave the financial report.

Five dollars was voted to be sent to Valley Forge toward repairs to a small chapel, which burned recently.

Mrs. Alfred Buckalew, Mrs. Frank Kinald and Mrs. Frank Maybury were appointed to plan the kitchen for the new Legion home, being built on Yardley avenue.

Mrs. Alfred Buckalew, companion chairman, reported 1437 coupons had been turned in during the past month. Anyone wishing a list of coupons to be saved to help with veteran work may contact Mrs. Buckalew.

The auxiliary will purchase an American flag and troop flag for Girl Scout Troop, No. 114.

Mrs. Frank Maybury was appointed acting secretary as Mrs. Arthur Ventrice is moving from the vicinity.

Reservations were made for five to attend the March 20th bi-county council meeting at Quakertown.

Refreshments were served to 10 by the hostess.

Jacob Henry Hackert, 60, Dies at Croydon Today

Jacob Henry Hackert, 60, died this morning at the residence of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Hackert, 900 Cedar avenue, Croydon, where he had been residing the past two weeks. In ill health the past six weeks, Mr. Hackert had made his home on a farm, he operated in Rushland, the past 15 years.

Survivors in addition to the son are four brothers: Conrad, John, George, Harry, all of Philadelphia. Funeral services will be conducted at 900 Cedar avenue, Croydon, Thursday at 10 a. m. A viewing will be at the Croydon address Wednesday evening from seven to nine p. m. Interment will be made in Sunset Memorial Park, Somerton under the direction of Faust Funeral Home, Hulmeville.

MAN-MADE SATELLITE IS A SUGGESTION

Advocated by Guided Missile Expert, for Use in War and Peace

POINTS OUT VALUE

A man-made satellite, endlessly circling the earth just beyond our atmosphere, is advocated by guided missile expert Dr. Kraft A. Ehricke for use in war and peace—and as a launching site for trips to the moon or Mars. Following is the first of two articles by International News Service staff correspondent Hugh L. Morris, based on an interview with Dr. Ehricke, former German scientist now at the U. S. Army's Redstone Arsenal Research Center.

By Hugh L. Morris (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Mar. 10 — (INS)—The United States—or any other powerful modern nation—within ten years could construct and derive tremendous wartime or peacetime value from a man-made satellite, drifting eternally in its own orbit outside the earth's atmosphere.

This is the flat assertion of Dr. Kraft A. Ehricke, one of the world's outstanding authorities on guided missiles, who envisions such a satellite as, among other things, a springboard for space travel to Mars, the moon or Venus.

In war, the satellite—shaped like a huge wheel and circling the earth once every two hours at a height of about 625 miles—is seen by Dr. Ehricke, a former German V-2 expert now at the U. S. Army's Redstone Arsenal Research Center, as a means of launching and directing attacks against enemy forces.

During peacetime, Dr. Ehricke

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Opposition to German rearming showed strength in an election held in the new state formed out of three old ones in Southwest Germany. Nearly complete returns gave Chancellor Adenauer's Christian Democrats 781,187 votes to 732,775 for the Socialists, who opposed rearming. However, the Free Democrats, part of the Adenauer coalition, polled 441,818 votes. The Communists and neo-Nazi Reich parties trailed far behind.

In the British version of the rearming dispute, Aneurin Bevan, who had left former Prime Minister Attlee's Cabinet on that issue, threw down the gauntlet to the Labor party leadership. He said he would not recant his opposition to the rearming program, would not promise not to do it again but would "go on alone" with his followers if the party did not accept his views.

Korean truce talks turned into an angry war of words over the Communist charge that the Allies had coerced and intimidated prisoners into renouncing their Red affiliations. An enemy spokesman called the Allies "hangmen and devils" while United States delegates expressed resentment over the "studied insult" and a "threat," the implications of which were "vague."

Negotiations between Japan and Nationalist China on a peace treaty were stalled over Japanese claims on China.

PIED PIPER IN COONSKIN-CAP

Close students of American affairs, including analysts of the political line-ups of the major factions in the U. S. A., would do well to go over carefully the remarkable address made by Senator Estes Kefauver at Warren, Ohio, on Thursday, February 21.

Ever since this Tennessee Senator, who is still in his freshman term, skyrocketed into national prominence as the interlocutor of the sensational television probe into politico-gangster activities—a bit of publicity on the wings of which he is now running for the presidency—a great many persons have wished that they had some way of knowing better what makes him tick.

Like Lochinvar he came riding in out of the West—or from the Southwest if you must be technical—and to a somewhat dazed public blossomed overnight into the role of the country's number-one gangbuster and champion of honesty.

The question was whether this matinee idol was just an illusion created by a fortunate publicity stunt—or the real McCoy. Was Kefauver a statesman, or just a singular lucky guy who happened to be photogenic and glib? Was he another Jefferson or Jackson, out of the foothills, sturdily honest, intellectually brilliant, indomitably courageous? Or was he just one more of the parade of demagogues which the Democratic party has produced, a sort of cross between Bryan and Huey Long, with leather-lungs and a tongue pivoted on ball-bearings?

The question now is answered. Senator Kefauver has answered it. He bared his bosom to a palpitating public, told all, revealed the dimensions of his mind and the extent of his perceptions. And a fellow-Democrat, also a sort of kindergarten member of Congress, one Wayne L. Hays, Representative from Ohio, did posterity a favor

NEWTOWN MAN IS WED AT FRIENDS CEREMONY

Miss Mary H. Tomlinson and Howard P. Kester Take Their Vows

GROOM IN THE ARMY

JENKINTOWN, Mar. 10 — On Sunday afternoon, at half after three, Miss Mary Hallowell Tomlinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ernest Tomlinson, Jenkintown became the bride of Mr. Howard Paul Kester, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Howard Kester, Newtown. The wedding ceremony took place in Abington Friends Meeting House, here.

Miss Evelyn Tyson, was at the piano and played the wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of candlelight satin, fashioned with long full skirt, falling into a train, illusion neckline, trimmed with seed pearls. Her veil was that worn by her mother and of heirloom lace. She carried a bouquet of white freesias, white violets and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. James MacKenzie Coate, Abington, was matron of honor and wore a gown of violet taffeta, strapless bodice with long full skirt with hoops. She wore a matching taffeta cape and cap headpiece and carried a bouquet of purple violets.

Bridesmaids were the Misses Alice and Cynthia Kester, of Newtown, sisters of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Charles Nahrgang. The gown of Miss Alice Kester was made identical to that of the matron of honor and the same color with

COUNCIL TO MEET

Bristol Borough Council will meet this evening at eight o'clock in the municipal building. Burgess I. J. Hetherington, Sr., stated today that he expects that the budget will be brought up for consideration at this meeting.

New Hampshire will register its verdict tomorrow on the relative strength of General Eisenhower and Senator Taft in the state's preferential Presidential primary. Harold E. Stassen is the third republican candidate and a strong write-in movement has developed for General MacArthur. President Truman is expected to win easily over Senator Kefauver on the Democratic side. Mr. Stassen may cut into the Eisenhower strength and General MacArthur into that of Senator Taft. The Taft organizers in New York State have decided against a major drive for delegates.

The National Civil Service League declared that every Senator who voted Thursday against President Truman's plan to reorganize the Internal Revenue Bureau would be "voting in favor of patronage."

The State Police Say - - -

Here are three "light" rules for safer night-time driving: One—See that all lights are kept working and in proper focus. Two—Hold your speed down so that you can stop within the distance your headlights reach. Three—Lower the beam for the other drivers you meet, whether they are as courteous and careful or not.

Devotions of Class Are Entitled "Our Bible"

EMILIE, Mar. 10—Thirteen members of the Friendly Helpers Sunday School class, Emilie Methodist Sunday School, were entertained at the home of Mrs. Jay Hook, Edgely, Thursday evening. Mrs. Robert Baker presided. The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. John Killian. Devotions entitled "Our Bible" were in charge of Mrs. Joseph Haag. Secretary's report was given by Mrs. Nelson Simon, treasury balance by Mrs. Horace Booz.

Mrs. Samuel Miller was appointed to secure special music for the class for Sunday School on June 1. A sum of $5 was voted to be given to Red Cross.

Plans were made for the Lenten service, Mar. 12th, to be conducted by the class. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Samuel Miller.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

SEVEN PAROLES GRANTED BY JUDGE

Two of The Seven Are Given To Bristol Area Residents

3 JUDGES OFFICIATE

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 10 — President Judge Hiram H. Keller and Judges Edward G. Biester and Edwin H. Satterthwaite, Friday, in Quarter Sessions Court, granted seven paroles.

They include the following: John E. Richmond, 34, Sellersville, who was sentenced to serve not less than 30 days, by Judge Satterthwaite, was paroled. He was arrested by a Sellersville policeman and charged with operating his car while drunk, and was sentenced Feb. 5, but has been in jail since Jan. 12.

Richard Starnes, 21, Bristol, RD., who was sentenced by Judge Keller April 3, 1951, to serve from 11 to 23 months for receiving stolen goods, was paroled. Chief of Police Joseph O. Seader, of Bristol twp., arrested the defendant who had a gun in his possession.

Walter Weaver, Jr., 23, Upper Black Eddy, who was sentenced by Judge Biester, Nov. 26, 1951, was directed not to operate his car or apply for an operator's license while on probation. He has five or six motor code violations, according to his record, and was

"'Me Too' GOPers Use Mush, Baloney, To Prevent Senator Taft's Nomination"

Because of the great interest in the question of what the deep South thinks about the Republican possibilities for the Presidential nomination, the following editorial is reprinted from the Fort Lauderdale (Fla.) Daily News, issue of February 26:

Florida voters once again last week heard one of the "siren singers" of the Republican Party warning up his seductive voice to get back on the same old "me too" trail that has proved disastrous in three straight national elections.

This time it was Sen. James H. Duff who came down here to preach the doctrine that Sen. Taft has no chance to win and that the only salvation of the Republican Party lies in the nomination of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Duff, in a high state of emotion, charged that party bosses were leading his party to ruin by trying to force the nomination of a candidate other than Eisenhower.

This charge is typical of the vast amount of pure baloney that is being tossed out these days by Republican liberals who for the past

COUNTY FIREMEN HOLD NOMINATION; HEAR THE REPORTS

Plan for Annual Session Possibly at Edgely; No Parade

FIGURES BY MARSHAL

Fire Loss in Bucks County During Past 3 Months Is $64,260

LACEY PARK, Mar. 10 — Tentative plans for the annual meeting of Bucks County Firemen's Association, minus a parade, were made when members of that organization met here Saturday evening. At this quarterly meeting, nominations of officers was in order; report of Bucks County fire marshal and Bucks County Rescue Squad, Croydon, heard, and several fires of an unusual nature discussed.

Thirty-two companies were represented, with Charles Roberts, of Newtown, presiding. He called upon Mr. Brenner, president of Lacey Park Co., for welcome to the visiting firemen; and Fire Marshal Robert Graham, Chalfont, for the invocation.

It is anticipated that the annual meeting in June will be held in Edgely Fire Co. station. The parade will be omitted this year. There was some discussion, however, regarding possibility of a display of antique fire-fighting equipment sometime this year at Doylestown.

The report of Fire Marshal Graham for December, January and February, showed fire loss in the county of $64,260; insurance on such property being $194,000; property at risk, $550,150. The 127 alarms included the following: Houses, 21; apartment house, 1; barns, 4; diner, 1; fields, 53; trees, 3; trucks, 2; false alarms, 11; workshop and garage, 1; automobiles, 6; electric motors, 3; special services, 2; oil, 1; factory, 1; dumps, 3; awnings, 1; tool shed, 1; ware-houses, 2; offices, 2; Christmas tree, 1; bakery, 1; oil burner, 2; chimneys, 3; laboratory, 4. Firemen injured: John McIntyre, sprained ankle, both of Cornwells Fire Co.; Francis Frankenhof, Upper Black Eddy Co., foot injured while attempting to board fire truck.

Two hundred were present for the meeting.

The members discussed instances in which firemen have been injured while attempting to board fire trucks. Fires discussed included one barn fire at Cornwells Heights in which two horses were destroyed, said to be allegedly being set by children; the Shull warehouse fire in Falls township, with much credit given Falls Township Fire Co. members and county detectives for

WEEK-END ACCIDENTS

A tremendous increase in traffic accidents on Saturday and Sunday since the end of World War II grimly underscores the fact that these are the most dangerous days for driving.

Quite naturally, week-end outings have grown in popularity as many more families have acquired cars and now also enjoy the extra leisure that is provided by the five-day week. So, more than at any other time except national holidays, most American families are on wheels on week-ends, pleasure bent.

It is especially tragic, therefore, that so many of these happy outings are marred by a fatal or serious accident. Unfortunately, too often the family driver doesn't realize that week-ends are the time when dangerous drivers are out in full numbers — speeding drivers, reckless drivers, drinking drivers, inexperienced drivers and inconsiderate drivers who won't yield an inch — along with a full harvest of law-abiding motorists.

Holidays are notorious for their shockingly long lists of dead and injured. But drivers must also bear in mind that all week-ends, especially in the summer and during the months of good weather, are in effect "little holidays" that claim vast numbers of victims in traffic accidents. Last year nearly 5,000 men, women and children were killed and 650,000 injured in week-end mishaps on the highways — mishaps that for the most part could have been avoided if the drivers involved had used a little more care, a little more patience, and much more regard for the traffic laws. Since the end of the war, week-end fatalities are now about 2,600 higher and injuries about 200,000 greater annually. As a well-known safety specialist said:

"Are a few minutes or even a few hours of time saved worth a lifetime of regret? Let every driver, therefore, consider the extra hazards of week-end travel. The family wheel of fate literally is in each driver's hands. If he isn't level-headed, sober and conscious of the traffic rules, others in the car should take action. That isn't ask seat driving; it is just self-reservation."

To that we say amen.

The cost of living index is alleged to be at a standstill, but the one cannot be said of the cost of axes index.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Nov. 5, 1903. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

LANGHORSE—A reception will be given by Sorosis on Saturday evening to welcome the new gentlemen associate members who are Allen R. Mitchell, Dr. Henry Lovett, Charles W. Sharples, Edgar Hazlett Porter and Pierson S. Fretz.

ATTLEBORO—Joseph Lenike has purchased the property on Bellevue avenue owned by the Jesse Knight estate and occupied by Mrs. Harriet Reese.

HULMEVILLE—On Saturday afternoon two horse races took place on the Trenton road above Hulmeville which quite a number of people had the pleasure of seeing. The first race was between a horse owned by Samuel J. Carmon, of Bensalem, and one owned by Newton Finney, of Hothor. The race was the best two in three heats. Carmon's horse took the first two heats. The next race was between a horse owned by William Vansant, of Bensalem, and one owned by Henry Douglass, of Hulmeville, and was a very close race, notwithstanding the fact that Douglass' horse was handicapped by a four-wheel wagon while the other horse had a two-wheeled road cart.

EMILIE—Miss Dora Lovett has raised a prize pumpkin weighing seventy-eight pounds and measuring five feet three inches in circumference.

EDDINGTON—Gunners report rabbits plentiful. Frank Vandegrift shot eight on Monday.

OXFORD VALLEY—While walking along the Cut-off near Dunlap station on Saturday night Watson Potts was run over by a train, cutting off one foot and injuring his head. He was removed to St. Francis Hospital, Trenton, where he died Sunday afternoon.

NEWPORTVILLE—The following visitors have been registered at the Newportville Hotel: Mrs. E. Roche, Mrs. James Dugan, Mrs. H. Boyle, Mrs. Howard King, Mrs. Hugh Ward, Misses Anna and Mary McIlvaine, Mrs. Dennis McGee, Mrs. McNulty, Mrs. Dennis Boyle, and John Dugan.

Street Commissioner Whiteley is engaged in opening the fire plugs and flushing the sewers.

Rev. Father Walsh, of St. Mark's Church, Bristol, has been removed to St. Malachy's Church, Philadelphia.

Charles Pope has received the contract for laying a new dance floor in the basement of Mechanics Hall.

Trolley Car, No. 10, of the Bristol-Morrisville line, known as the "Thunderbolt," will make a re-appearance today, but will hardly be recognized. The car was completely dismantled at the Penn Valley shop and practically reconstructed. It is painted dark green with light trimmings, corresponding in appearance to cars Nos. 14 and 15.

The third rehearsal by the Bristol Choral Society of Handel's "Messiah" took place last evening. The organization is stronger this year than ever before, having eighty-five members from Bristol. It is the intention to go on the platform with one hundred voices, and the chorus will be augmented for the rendering by singers from Burlington, Trenton and Philadelphia. Too much credit cannot be given for the hearty co-operation given by the people of Bristol.

The regular monthly meeting of the Public School Board was held in the directors' room in the high school building last evening. The directors present were J. K. Wildman, E. H. Foster, M. D. Harrison, W. H. Hall, H. S. Rue, Richard Myers, P. J. Barrett, D. A. Barrett, Doron Green. The treasurer reported having received the State appropriation, which amounted to $5,171.29, of which amount $246.25 was on account of the special and $4,925.04 the regular appropriation. Also received from Fred I. Kraft, delinquent tax collector, $375, and from non-residents for tuition, $3.25. Superintendent Louise D. Baggs was given full power to act in the matter of preparing an exhibit of the children's work to be displayed at the World's Fair at St. Louis next year.

anathema to these Republican liberals. They can't stomach Bob Taft for the plain and simple reason that a Taft administration would set the liberals back on their heels and would mean an end to some of the fantastic nonsense we've been receiving, and paying through the nose for, under the masquerade of enlightened, democratic government.

These liberals fear Bob Taft for good reason. For almost 20 years we have had a condition in this nation where conservative voters have been left without a candidate on election day. Instead of being a party of opposition the Republicans have tried to peddle the same wares the Democrats have been selling and when voters have no real choice they will take an original over a carbon copy every time.

Now, however, there is a good chance that voters will finally get a clear-cut choice next November. If Bob Taft is nominated, there won't be any of this "me too" stuff. The issues between "creeping socialism" and conservative constitutional government will be clearly outlined, and for the first time in a long, long while the conservative voters will have somebody to represent them.

This isn't a very happy prospect for the liberals to contemplate. They would much prefer to have somebody other than Bob Taft in there pitching for the Republicans next November, and consequently they are pulling out all the stops in a frantic effort to keep Taft out of the picture.

That's why they are running all over the countryside crying that Taft can't win. That's why they are shouting their lungs out that the party bosses are trying to cram Taft down the people's throats. That's why they have latched on to the coattails of Gen. Eisenhower in the hope that a "ghost" candidate of hero proportions will come to their rescue.

We believe that Gen. Eisenhower knows what these "fancy Duns" are up to. He has been around long enough to know that these men wouldn't be flocking around him unless they were desperate. They have nobody in their own ranks who could draw a nickel's worth of public support. So they have gone outside their ranks to champion a military hero whom the people greatly admire, but whose political leanings and beliefs still need to be greatly clarified.

Since "Ike" won't come home to speak his own mind, these "phony" Republicans are trying to speak it for him. Since he won't campaign for the Republican nomination, they are campaigning for him.

The whole deal isn't working as well as they anticipated. The American people like Gen. Eisenhower, but they are refusing to be stampeded to his banner under the present setup. And in the meantime Sen. Taft keeps plugging away, frank in his desire to win the presidency, and open and above board in his campaign.

Unless the liberal Republicans can persuade "Ike" to come home and start campaigning they realize that all may be lost. Now Bob Taft has suddenly become a vicious tool of unnamed "party bosses." His election will make foreign countries distrust us and plunge us into war. Worst of all, according to the liberals, the great social reforms of the past two decades will be thrown into the discard and the whole country will backtrack once more into the dark ages of the pre-Roosevelt days.

That's all mush and baloney. It's a claptrap designed for the sole purpose of eliminating Bob Taft as a threat to the social reformers who are trying to remake our nation. They don't want any conservative candidate before the people. All they want are liberals pledged to the same course of action we've been following and they have the gall to say that it's not they, but Bob Taft, who is leading the Republican Party "down the drain again."

Four Are Given Divorce Decrees

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 10.—Three wives from Bristol, Perkasio and Croydon, and a Croydon husband were granted divorces in the Court of Common Pleas here, Friday, by Judge Edward G. Biester. The three couples have seven children. Divorces will become final upon payment of costs in the Prothonotary's office.

Evelyn S. Long, 28, 30 South 4th street, Perkasio, was granted a divorce from her husband, Richard K. Long, 28, of the American House, Perkasio. They were married in Perkasio by Rev. Norman Y. Ritter, Jan. 23, 1943, and have an eight-year-old son.

Janet McCollick, 26, North Radcliffe street, Bristol, was granted a divorce from William McCollick, 30, 9 Schumacher drive, Bristol Terrace, No. 1. They were married in Baltimore, Md., Dec. 6, 1948.

Lucy Margaret Cottone, 35, 259 McKinley street, Bristol, was granted her freedom from Anthony Cottone, 44, 717 Mansion street, Bristol. They were united in marriage by a Catholic priest, Rev. Alfonso Palombi, Sept. 3, 1933, in Trenton, N. J. Three children, two of whom are girls, are involved.

Benjamin Gartner, 49, 504 Wyoming avenue, Croydon, was granted a divorce from his wife, Emma Gartner, 37, of the same address. They were married Jan. 27, 1934, in St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church, Croydon, by the rector, Rev. Thomas J. Nolan. They have three children, two of whom are sons.

COMMUNICATION

Editor Courier:

If practically everything can be done as a second class township, that can be done as a first class township, then why don't the supervisors start by having an open meeting once a month and notify the public of the time and place so the taxpayers can present their problems to them.

At the present there are no open meetings or set time or dates or published information of supervisors meetings.

Under a first class township the commissioners hold an open meeting monthly at a given time and date.

The question is will it be too expensive to operate as a first class township with five commissioners with an annual salary of $200 to $600 or as a second class township with three supervisors with an annual salary of $48 to $144 with the power to appoint themselves roadmasters and set their own salaries. Salaries are unknown.

It would be well for the taxpayers of Bensalem to check the running expenses and note the flexibility of the government of the Bristol township that has operated as a first class township for one year.

Aeromodelers Attend Meeting of Federation

Bristol Aeromodelers members attended a meeting of the Bucks County Federation of Model Airplane Clubs held last week at Glen-side, where they acted as representatives for their club.

Among various issues discussed and voted upon were the closing of the club's charter to its present group and accepting only clubs within the border of Bucks County in the future, and placing a ceiling of 25 on the number of independent members.

The date of the Bucks County Season's opener model 'plane meet was announced. It will be held on April 20th at Willow Grove, and will feature free flight, sailplane, hand launched glider, standard speed, stunt and beauty events for model 'planes.

Following this meet there will be model 'plane contests at Perkasio, Annapolis, Maryland, Hempstead Long Island, Bristol, Allentown, Johnsville, as well as many others that are not yet scheduled which the Aeromodelers will attend.

A meeting of the Bristol Aeromodelers was held on Wednesday evening. Various details were discussed concerning the responsibilities of club leader members whom accept various administrative duties. A model flying session will be held Sunday.

FALLSINGTON

Falls Twp. Fire Co Auxiliary will conduct a meeting Mar. 11th at eight p. m. in the fire station.

Hottest spot on earth is at the Persian Gulf.

More Protection for More People

Report to Metropolitan Policyholders for 1951

THE importance of Life insurance and its relationship to the lives of the people of the United States and Canada cannot effectively be portrayed by figures in a balance sheet. Cold figures can never adequately show human needs and their fulfillment. It is important, therefore, to try to interpret these figures in terms of the millions of people they represent and the millions who benefit by the use of the services rendered by the Company and its Agents. The Metropolitan was serving 33,373,000 Life insurance policyholders at the close of the year.

The personal phases of Life insurance—for it is a highly personal business—are highlighted daily by dramatic instances. Sometimes they are so unusual as to give special emphasis to the part our business plays in the life of the United States and Canada. The following quotation from a letter from the son of a deceased policyholder, requesting the return of a policy on which claim had been paid, tells with simple sincerity a moving story of a Life insurance policy, of the son's relationship with his father, and of a sound process of economic and social education:

"This policy . . . has for me possibly a greater sentimental value than it would have cash value . . . For you to understand this, you would have to know the years of close relationship and confidence that existed between my father and me. When I was a small boy, he would take me with him to his safety deposit vault . . . Always he stressed to me the importance of his insurance policy, how this piece of paper would some day have a cash value that might tide the family over in an emergency . . . Time has passed . . . but the sentimental worth of this piece of paper is constant in my thinking . . . I have always been told that business, especially Big Business, is hard and cold and rigid, but I know that this is not so, because business is made up of people. People with hearts and souls and loved ones, and people who have lost loved ones, and some who possibly think and feel the same way that I do."

We were, of course, pleased to grant this unusual request.

The record sum of $924,000,000 was paid in benefits to policyholders and beneficiaries during 1951. This included payments of $141,000,000 on more than 1,250,000 claims (five times ten years ago) for Accident and Health and Disability benefits. A new high was also reached in Life insurance in force—$48,512,000,000, a gain of more than $3,000,000,000 over 1950.

More people than ever were protected last year by Metropolitan Accident and Health insurance. As the year closed, the Company had in force 3,270,000 policies or certificates providing weekly indemnity for disability of $86,000,000 per week. Hospital, Surgical or Medical Expense benefits were provided by 2,744,000 policies or certificates.

Another significant development during the year was the introduction of Extended Medical Coverage through Group insurance to protect people against abnormal hospital, surgical, and medical expense that might exhaust a family's entire savings.

Dr. Ehrlicke points out that the satellite theory is supported by hundreds of years of astronomical research.

"The only things needed are teamwork, facilities and money for the final experiment. Scientific preparations are complete, nothing needs to be invented and all necessary elements are available."

Dr. Ehrlicke estimates the cost of launching a manned, permanent satellite around the earth at one billion dollars. He says the project could be completed in ten years if given top priorities in essential materials. He adds:

"Erection of such a satellite at the present stage of development would be no major financial problem for any modern country like the United States."

Many rockets would be used to transport construction elements beyond the atmosphere, and the body actually would be assembled in space.

The satellite, less than 60 feet in diameter, would travel in the same system in the same direction as the earth—counterclockwise—free, unpowered flight just as the moon does.

Dr. Ehrlicke believes that, once a satellite was in operation, it would be in the moon's orbit, and would take only ten days for a round trip. Mars would take two years and eight months to reach and return.

During the earth at 15,000 miles an hour, the satellite would make main sections of the globe visible. Similarly, others occasionally and others not at all. Powerful scopes would bring the visible sections into close view, and many minute details could be seen.

In wartime, Dr. Ehrlicke maintains, enemy forces would be driven underground and forced to rely on overcast skies or night to avoid their movements.

For peacetime, Dr. Ehrlicke says, the satellite would disclose many ranges in stellar spectra not visible from the earth because of atmospheric absorption. Accuracy of weather forecasts could be greatly increased by over-all observation of the earth's surface.

Rescue parties could be directed accurately to remote points of distress. Many medical mysteries could be solved, such as man's ability to stand and adjust himself to a state of complete weightlessness—would exist on a free-falling satellite.

Proper calculations would permit ferry ships to leave earth and set the traveling satellite at a given location after an hour-long flight. The ferry could adjust its speed to pull even with the space platform and then travel unpowered alongside it.

Dr. Ehrlicke believes construction would take not more than about ten trips by ferry. The satellite, it might be in the shape of an automobile wheel, the rim acting as a platform against deadly cosmic rays, the hub as living quarters and few spokes as connecting tunnels to the hub.

Once completed, the satellite could be deserted to travel in space unattended for long periods and could be occupied as desired.

Dr. Ehrlicke's space studies are more or less a spare-time project at present. A graduate of the Technical University of Berlin's School of Aeronautics, he was only 24 years of age when he joined the work on the V-2 guided missile with which the Germans bombarded London in 1944.

At the close of World War II, he was one of more than 400 German scientists scooped up by the Allies in "Operation Paperclip," a project for grabbing them before the Russians did. His work for Uncle Sam—first at Fort Bliss, Texas, and now at Redstone—has been for one purpose: development of military guided missiles and rockets.

All of it is a means to an end for Dr. Ehrlicke, who says "Interplanetary travel is a task to which I have dedicated my life." He explains:

"Designing of weapons is just a state which has to be gone through. Human beings have always used their intelligence to bring life to a higher pitch. This is one of the most spectacular means to do it."

County Firemen Hold Nomination; Hear Reports

locating the one charged with arson in the case.

Andrew Kline, representing the Inter-County Federation of Volunteer Firemen, spoke on various acts now before the state legislature which affect firemen.

Tentative plans were made for setting up a fire pumping school in the county this summer. The committee named includes: Raymond Strunk, Quakertown; Lloyd Crouthamel, Dublin; Harrison Ettinger, Newtown. The committee appointed to meet with the county committee in regard to fire police activities includes: Fred Hibbs, Edgely; Clifford Beck, Doylestown; and Raymond Strunk.

Committee members reported progress on proposed amendments to the by-laws. The sum set aside by the government for federal civilian defenses was also mentioned.

Those nominated to office are: President, Charles Roberts, Newtown; vice-presidents—1st, Leonard Roberts, Trevese; 2nd, George Bilger, Hulmeville; 3rd, Robert Goulding, Erwinna; secretary, Clifford Shearer, Quakertown; financial sec'y, Lawrence Gilmore, Lahaska; treasurer, Louis C. Leedom, Yardley; trustees—Frank Faust, New Hope, Mr. Ervin, Cornwells Heights, Thomas K. Schatt, Hulmeville, Edwin Fly, Chalfont; fire marshal, Robert Graham, Chalfont; delegate to Penna. State Firemen's Ass'n convention, Scranton, Oct. 7th-8th, Paul McBride, Feasterville, with Robert Brenner, Edgely, alternate. Election will take place in June.

The financial secretary reported 587 members; 314 paid-up; 24 companies affiliated; 12 new members; and 19 new members since the last meeting.

The report presented by Harry A. Eckert, Jr., on behalf of Bucks Co. Rescue Squad, for December, January and February, showed there were 434 calls answered. Sick and injured transported totaled 456; road accident calls, 67; industrial accident, 69; drownings, 2; suicide, 3; gas asphyxiation, 4; oxygen administered, 21; oxygen tent calls, 13; searches, 2; fire calls for rescue truck and ambulance, 9; blood donated, 125 pints; mileage of three ambulances, 14,036; mileage for rescue truck, 155; man hours by personnel, 6,752.

The report further stated: "As of March 1st, we handled our 15,000th call after 20 years of service." It was stated that the squad ambulances have travelled in that period 535,510 miles. Mr. Eckert reported that the squad has three radio-equipped ambulances and base capable of sending or receiving over a radius of 30 miles or more; also two "walkie-talkies" with range of six miles on the same wave length. "We feel we are one of the foremost volunteer units in eastern United States," the report concluded.

Seven Paroles Granted By Judge

charged with failure to stop at the scene of an accident, which consisted of striking a car on the river road. He was given not more than 23 months.

George Hriczo, 19, Trevese, who is AWOL from the Army, was sentenced by Judge Keller, June 8, 1951, to serve not less than 11 nor more than 23 months after stealing money and liquor from the Hill-top Club.

William Laderer, 53, Churchville, RD. who was sentenced by Judge Biester to serve not more than 23 months following pleading guilty to assault and battery and open lewdness, was paroled.

John L. Schaffer, 20, Richlandtown who was sentenced by Judge Biester, Nov. 28, 1951, to serve not less than three nor more than 18 months, was paroled. He pleaded guilty to stealing tools and gasoline and was arrested by the Quakertown borough police.

John W. Ems, 43, Bristol, RD. 3, who was sentenced by Judge Biester, October 1, 1951, to serve from 9 to 18 months in the County Prison, was paroled. He began his sentence May 19, 1951, and was arrested by Bristol Township patrolman Bentley Chapin on charges of involuntary manslaughter and drunken driving.

Women's Auxiliaries Raise Over $16,000

the next meeting in June at Edgely. Mrs. William L. Stackhouse, Doylestown, will install the new officers.

Fourteen auxiliaries reported donating over $16,000 to Fire Companies: Cornwells Heights, $500; Doylestown, $1,000; Dublin, $500; Erwinna, $150; Edgely, $1,000; Midway, $2,500; Perkasi, $75; Newtown, $500; Pennell, $1,900; Quakertown, $750; Trevese, $2,000; Wycombe, $1,000; Pennell, $1,000; Edgely, $3,400. An additional $160 was mentioned following the meeting by an unidentified auxiliary.

An auditing committee was appointed as follows: Mrs. Richard Johnson, Quakertown; Mrs. C. Clifford Beck, Doylestown; Mrs. Samuel Colbert, Trevese.

The meeting opened with prayer by the chaplain, Mrs. Jean Whyte, Cornwells Heights. Words of welcome were given by Mrs. Brooks, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary at Lacey Park.

Two new members were accepted—Mrs. Doris Stake and Mrs. George Whorton, both of Edgely.

The best attendance was marked by women of Midway Company at Lahaska, with 11 members present.

Nineteen reports were given by individual auxiliaries of the county. Various ways of making money were discussed. The average attendance reported by the local units was between 20 and 30.

Heller-Hibbs Wedding Is A Saturday Event Locally

For her marriage to Mr. Lester C. Heller on Saturday, Miss Shirley Hibbs, N. Radcliffe street, selected a creation of white satin and lace. The vows, uniting the daughter of Mr. Earl J. Hibbs, Bristol, and the son of Mr. LeRoy Heller, Morrisville, were taken in the First Methodist Church, at 4 o'clock before the Rev. Rowland Wilson, pastor, and a company of relatives and friends. Mr. Heller escorted his daughter to the altar. The bride wore a gown of white lace, with a long train, and a large veil. The bridegroom wore a tuxedo. The wedding party included: Mrs. Hugh Templeton, Avenue, Croydon, a sister of the bride, as matron of honor, wearing a green gown; Mrs. Benjamin Hamant, Morrisville, sister of the bridegroom, attired in orchid; Mrs. Robert Hibbs, Bristol, as sister-in-law of the bride, wearing a yellow gown. The bridesmaids wore white gowns with overskirts of net. Net insertions were used on the front of the bridesmaids' dresses. Each wore a taffeta bow-tie slipper; band of plastic.

by incorporating Senator Kefauver's astonishing address in the everlasting pages of the Congressional Record.

The world's great orators, from Cicero and Demosthenes on down, have always sought to build up to a climax. They started on the plains of ordinary ideas and language, and built up to a pinnacle of lofty sentiments eloquently expressed.

Senator Kefauver has perfected a different technique. He starts at the top and works down. He opened his remarks on the high note of nationalism, wended his way down tortuously through the concepts of Jefferson and Jackson, and wound up in the gutter of partisanship, mouthing once again the tattered and tarnished fabrications first launched by that king of hatchetmen, Charley Michaelson.

"We are met at a challenging time," Senator Kefauver began. And he went on from there to trace the origins of this nation, the seeds of its greatness, the wisdom of Jefferson and the belligerent democracy of Jackson.

But ultimately Senator Kefauver coasted down to the dirt and mud, and became just one more smart-aleck doing what the New Dealers have termed "going after the red-neck vote." "The Republican Party," he wisecracked, "has strained its neck looking, not upward, but backward. I'm not saying that the Republican party lacks a mentality. The only trouble is that it is an antique mentality. It is the kind of mentality which would have been a great hit in ancient Egypt, for there people worshipped the dead and enshrined the past."

Low spot of the harangue was the closing paragraphs, where, for the act of protesting a biased magazine article, he accused Senator McCarthy of "a blow aimed at the freedom of the press."

All this goes far deeper than the mere question of the high record conferred upon Senator Kefauver by the TV audiences, and the sensational manner in which he now demonstrates that his temporary reputation for temperate judgment and a judicious mind is wholly misplaced.

It is vastly significant in this (as he says) "challenging time" when the American people must decide whether to drift on down to Socialism and bankruptcy under the tutelage of the Pendergast gang—or unite in a courageous stand against the things which President Truman represents, and which Senator Kefauver at least superficially pretends to oppose.

For several years it has been quite obvious that there might arise, out of the new "middle border," that lying between the North and the South, some great leader who could reunite the sundered nation under the Constitution, and offer to work out a solution to such great issues as labor, race, finances, and all the others, along the lines contemplated by our forefathers, not those invented by Marx and Lenin. Obviously, such a man would have to win some of his support from the Republicans.

For a matter of days after the taking office of President Truman, many believed him to be such a man. From time to time others—George of Georgia, Russell of Georgia, Byrd of Virginia, McKellar of Tennessee, even Barkley of Kentucky—have showed signs that, under some circumstances, they might be of a mind to make the good fight, regardless of consequences, including loss of patronage.

And so for a time with Kefauver. But nothing can be more clear, after scanning his address, than that this is no farewell-to-patronage venture into doing or dying for patriotic motives. What Kefauver has in mind becomes crystal-clear. He's in there to try to splinter off enough votes to deadlock the election between Republicans and Democrats, and then he and his friends can bargain in Congress for the presidential decision. Shades of Aaron Burr!

So much has been said about the possibility of the Republicans sometime splitting the solid South, that it is important for political strategists not to be fooled by the coonskin-cap antics being put on by Senator Kefauver.

This isn't a down-to-earth campaign. It's just footwork. It's just a strategic stunt put on by Kefauver for the purpose of advancing his own political interests, not for the wellbeing of the nation.

Ultimately, his activities will hurt the Republicans far more than help them. The truth of the matter is that Tennessee is one of the great potentials of the Republican Party. It's all very well for Senator Kefauver to mock the Republicans, and to turn his thinking back to the level of the famous Scopes trial, which took place in his district.

Tennessee is far more awake to the world situation than Kefauver's remarks might lead you to believe. For years it has sent two Republicans to Congress as part of its ten-man delegation. Twice within memory of this generation it voted Republican in a national election—once in 1920 and again in 1928.

Given a chance, it might easily do so again. But that appears to be where Kefauver comes in—not to give it that chance!

BRISTOL HIGH NOSES OUT CENTRAL BUCKS TEAM

WARRIORS WIN FIRST ROUND OF PIAA BATTLE

NORRISTOWN, Mar. 10.—An underdog Bristol High team came from behind to nose out Central Bucks High (Doylestown) to gain the first round of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association tournament. Bristol meets Coatesville High tomorrow night in a second round game of District 1, with the winner playing Chester High for the championship of the district on Thursday night. The latter games are scheduled for the Penn Palestra.

Every inch of available space in the Stewart Junior High School, here, was filled as the determined Bristol High basketballers came from behind to notch the one-point, 36-35, triumph.

The Warriors gained the victory after an uphill fight. Coach Ben Watson's lads were behind from the start until Andy Accardi tied the score with 3½ minutes remaining to be played. After the fielder, Bob Stroble followed with a foul and Bristol took the lead which it kept for the remaining minutes of the fracas.

Bristol got off to a very poor start and did not score a field goal in the first quarter although it converted three of its seven foul shots. Andy Accardi, Stroble and Gallagher missed shots that were usually two pointers on the Bristol court. In the meantime, "Big Jim" Radcliff was going strong for the Doylestown aggregation.

The only consolation Bristol had in the first session was that Radcliff had committed three personal fouls, all within the first four minutes of playing. Radcliff was the whole Doylestown team in the first half as he controlled the boards and accounted for 9 of the 17 points. Bristol had quite a bit of difficulty in stopping the lanky Doylestown center who stands close to 6' 5".

Central Bucks jumped into the lead early in the game as Wilbur Wright was fouled and awarded a free shot. He converted to give Central Bucks a 1-0 lead. Shortly after, Don Fritz passed to Radcliff who scored under the net, making it 3-0. Accardi was fouled and made one of his two shots to reduce the lead to 3-1. After Accardi and Gallagher missed fouls, Jerry Lee converted a Doylestown foul. The lead jumped to 6-1 when Radcliff scored on a left-handed shot. Stroble made a Bristol foul but Radcliff got it back for Doylestown, making the count 7-2. Fritz added a two-pointer for the Bucksers to lift the score to 9-2 and as the quarter ended, Stroble dunked a foul to put Bristol behind by six points, 9-3.

At the start of the second period, Accardi scored the first Bristol goal after stealing the ball from Ed Redfield. However, Radcliff got a two-pointer for Doylestown, making the count 11-5. Stevens' set shot sliced the Doylestown lead to 11-7 but on a rebound off the board, Wright scored. Gallagher added a foul to Bristol's total but before the half was over, Radcliff and Redfield scored double-digits to give Bob Fritz's team a 9-point lead, 17-8.

Bristol's hopes grew dimmer at the beginning of the third quarter as Redfield took one step after receiving the tap-off and scored. Bristol came back strong as Loud hit on a set shot, Accardi scored again cut the cords on a pass from Stevens. The trio of goals cut the Central Bucks' lead to 19-14. After a throw-in, Wright counted for Doylestown and Radcliff on a tap-in scored to again put the Doylestown lead to nine points, 23-14. Stevens scored from side court for the Warriors, Redfield converted a foul and shortly after, Radcliff missed a foul but followed it up and scored a fielder, making the count 26-16, the largest lead of the game. Stroble scored from side court and Stevens dropped in a foul. Accardi was fouled while shooting and after sinking both, the score was 26-21. Radcliff and Stroble both scored, bringing the count to 28-23. Before the session was over, Accardi and Stroble missed "duck" shots which would have given Bristol the lead.

The ball went to Stroble on the tap-off. The Bristol forward took one step towards the basket and pushed in a field goal. Radcliff made a Doylestown foul, the score being 29-25. Harold Loud scored on a set shot to cut the lead to 29-27. Radcliff had an easy goal from under the net, the score going to 31-27. Stroble's foul conversion put the Warriors three points behind, 31-28. The tempo of the game increased as Accardi made two foul shots to reduce the lead to 31-30. Accardi missed a foul that would have tied the score but he was awarded two shots on the following play and dunked one to knot the count as the clock read 3½ minutes left to play.

Stroble was fouled for two shots. He made the first and missed the second but Accardi was under the basket and with an overhead shot scored the goal which gave Bristol its first commanding lead, 34-31. Bristol attempted a "freeze" but Central Bucks broke it up and on a pass from Fritz, Redfield scored from the side, making the count 34-33 with 1:45 left to play. Stroble on a pass from Frankie Manzo scored and Bristol again had its three-point lead, 36-33. Stroble's goal proved to be the winning points as Redfield scored for Central Bucks with one minute remaining. Radcliff had a chance to deadlock the count with 45 seconds left but he missed a foul throw. With two seconds left, Doylestown made one frantic effort to score and failed.

Accardi and Stroble were high for Bristol with 12 points each. However, the entire team-play of the Warriors was outstanding. Coach Watson put in Frank Manzo, a sophomore, in the final quarter and the aggressiveness shown by this youth was amazing. Harold Loud and Raul Stevens did well on the defense. "Jim" Gallagher had his hands full with Radcliff but turned in an outstanding performance.

There was no doubt that Radcliff was the whole Central Bucks team as he clicked for 18 points. Redfield contributed 9 points to the losing cause.

CLUBMEN'S ASSOCIATION DART LEAGUE

The Mutual Aid Society has taken an early lead in the final playoffs of the Bristol Clubmen's Association Dart League. In the two matches that have been played so far the Mutual Aid aggregation has five points while the other playoff contender, the Loyal Order of Moose, has won three points. The final match of the playoffs will be played tomorrow evening at the Moose home. With four points at stake that night the Mutual Aid needs two points while the Moose must win all four points to gain the championship. The two outstanding players of the tournament so far have been "Hystie" Grimes of the Moose and Joe Luzzi of the Mutual Aid. Manager Leonard Egrandi and his assistant, "Fitty" Caucci, of the Wood street team, predict a close outcome in the final match. These two men have constantly urged their team on to victory and it appears that they are on their way to winning another championship. However, Jack Tally, of the Moose, will have his strongest team on hand for the final encounter.

There will be a meeting of all dart league managers this Friday evening at 7:30 p. m., at the No. 3 Fire Co. This meeting will precede the regular monthly meeting of the Clubmen's Association that night.

TWO GAMES ARE BOOKED TONIGHT IN COURT LEAGUE

With the tightest race in years now taking place, the Bristol Basketball League continues its schedule tonight with two games carded on the Goodwill Hose Company court. In the first encounter, starting at 7:30 o'clock, Cornwells Boys Club meets the Hibernians. The second tilt pits Hilltop against Rohm & Haas.

So close are the teams bunched that no playoff position is definitely decided, yet the teams only have two more games to play. In fact, at the present standing, the only team out of the race for the playoffs is Hilltop, although this team can still cause plenty of damage to Rohm & Haas and Franklin.

The Hibernians are one game away from the league-leading Cornwells team. The Hibs are in a triple deadlock for second place with Rohm & Haas and Luciano Brothers, while Prof's is in a tie with Fifth Ward for fifth place with Franklin one game behind these teams.

Manager Pete Harkins will put his best defense in order in an effort to stop Jim Caskey who has been the shining light in the Cornwells lineup. Caskey must play tonight and in next week's game in order to be eligible for the playoffs. It is most likely that Bill Burr or Joe Roe will be assigned the task of stopping Caskey.

The Hilltop team is out of the running but is determined to beat the Rohm & Haas contingent. The latter team lost to Fifth Ward last week and is out to redeem itself.

The largest crowd of the season is expected as the teams enter their 12th week of play.

BUS FOR GAME

Provided enough passengers can be secured, a bus will leave the Bristol High School tomorrow evening for the Bristol-Coatesville game at Penn Palestra. Fans interested are requested to contact Athletic Director Jerry Bloom at the high school before noon tomorrow. Telephone number is 6161.

MAN CRITICALLY HURT IN CRASH AT ANDALUSIA

Earl R. Ennis, Phila., Is In Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia

LOST CONTROL OF CAR Vehicle Went Across Road and Hit Car of Francis Bergmaier

Three adults and two children were hurt in an accident in Andalusia, Bristol Pike, near Penn street, Saturday evening at about 10 o'clock. One of the adults, Earl R. Ennis, of Philadelphia, is in a critical condition in Nazareth hospital.

The accident occurred when Ennis, driver of the car, in which his step-father, Rene Schmitt, also of Philadelphia, was a passenger, lost control of the machine. The Ennis car went directly across the highway and sideswiped an automobile driven by Francis Bergmaier, who was accompanied by his wife, Dorothy, and two children, Ogden avenue, Cornwells Heights. Both cars were wrecked. The accident was investigated by Police officer, Englebert Smith, Bensalem township, and the injured were taken to the Frankford and Nazareth hospitals by the Bucks County Rescue Squad.

The injured: Earl R. Ennis, 35, 3007 N. Sixth street, Philadelphia, fractured skull, brain injury and internal injuries, Nazareth hospital. Francis Bergmaier, 27, Philadelphia, lacerations of the head, chest, eight stitches required in face injury, Frankford hospital. Rene Schmitt, 54, of 3010 N. Fourth street, Philadelphia, deep cut over right eye, treated at Nazareth hospital. Francis Bergmaier, Jr., 15 months, Theresa Bergmaier, three years, numerous cuts, treated by local physician.

A trio of Philadelphia young women and a youth were removed to Nazareth hospital, Philadelphia, early yesterday morning after an accident in which they were involved.

American and Troop Flags To Be Given To Scouts

FALLSINGTON, Mar. 10 — A meeting of Falls twp., American Legion Auxiliary was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Clifford Watson. Mrs. William Loebker, president. Mrs. Frank Maybury read minutes in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Arthur Ventrice. Mrs. Watson gave the financial report.

Five dollars was voted to be sent to Valley Forge toward repairs to a small chapel, which burned recently.

Mrs. Alfred Buckalew, Mrs. Frank Kinald and Mrs. Frank Maybury were appointed to plan the kitchen for the new Legion home, being built on Yardley avenue.

Mrs. Alfred Buckalew, companion chairman, reported 1437 coupons had been turned in during the past month. Anyone wishing a list of coupons to be saved to help with veteran work may contact Mrs. Buckalew.

The auxiliary will purchase an American flag and troop flag for Girl Scout Troop, No. 114.

Mrs. Frank Maybury was appointed acting secretary as Mrs. Arthur Ventrice is moving from the vicinity.

Reservations were made for five to attend the March 20th bi-county council meeting at Quakertown.

Refreshments were served to 10 by the hostess.

MAN-MADE SATELLITE IS A SUGGESTION

Advocated by Guided Missile Expert, for Use in War and Peace

POINTS OUT VALUE

A man-made satellite, endlessly circling the earth just beyond our atmosphere, is advocated by guided missile expert Dr. Kraft A. Ehrlicke for use in war and peace—and as a launching site for trips to the moon or Mars. Following is the first of two articles by International News Service staff correspondent Hugh L. Morris, based on an interview with Dr. Ehrlicke, former German scientist now at the U. S. Army's Redstone Arsenal Research Center.

By Hugh L. Morris
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Mar. 10—

(INS)—The United States—or any other powerful modern nation—within ten years could construct and derive tremendous wartime or peacetime value from a man-made satellite, drifting eternally in its own orbit outside the earth's atmosphere.

This is the flat assertion of Dr. Kraft A. Ehrlicke, one of the world's outstanding authorities on guided missiles, who envisions such a satellite as, among other things, a springboard for space travel to Mars, the moon or Venus.

In war, the satellite—shaped like a huge wheel and circling the earth once every two hours at a height of about 625 miles—is seen by Dr. Ehrlicke, a former German V-2 expert now at the U. S. Army's Redstone Arsenal Research Center, as a means of launching and directing attacks against enemy forces.

During peacetime, Dr. Ehrlicke

PIED PIPER IN COONSKIN-CAP

Close students of American affairs, including analysts of the political line-ups of the major factions in the U. S. A., would do well to go over carefully the remarkable address made by Senator Estes Kefauver at Warren, Ohio, on Thursday, February 21.

Ever since this Tennessee Senator, who is still in his freshman term, skyrocketed into national prominence as the interlocutor of the sensational television probe into politico-gangster activities—a bit of publicity on the wings of which he is now running for the presidency—a great many persons have wished that they had some way of knowing better what makes him tick.

Like Lochinvar he came riding in out of the West—or from the Southwest if you must be technical—and to a somewhat dazed public blossomed overnight into the role of the country's number-one gangbuster and champion of honesty.

The question was whether this matinee idol was just an illusion created by a fortunate publicity stunt—or the real McCoy. Was Kefauver a statesman, or just a singular lucky guy who happened to be photogenic and glib? Was he another Jefferson or Jackson, out of the foothills, sturdily honest, intellectually brilliant, indomitably courageous? Or was he just one more of the parade of demagogues which the Democratic party has produced, a sort of cross between Bryan and Huey Long, with leather-lungs and a tongue pivoted on ball-bearings?

The question now is answered. Senator Kefauver has answered it. He bared his bosom to a palpitating public, told all, revealed the dimensions of his mind and the extent of his perceptions. And a fellow-Democrat, also a sort of kindergarten member of Congress, one Wayne L. Hays, Representative from Ohio, did posterity a favor

Miss Mary H. Tomlinson and Howard P. Kester Take Their Vows

GROOM IN THE ARMY

JENKINTOWN, Mar. 10—On Sunday afternoon, at half after three, Miss Mary Hallowell Tomlinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ernest Tomlinson, Jenkintown, became the bride of Mr. Howard Paul Kester, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Howard Kester, Newtown. The wedding ceremony took place in Abington Friends Meeting House, here.

Miss Evelyn Tyson, was at the piano and played the wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of candlelight satin, fashioned with long full skirt, falling into a train, illusion neckline, trimmed with seed pearls. Her veil was that worn by her mother and of heirloom lace. She carried a bouquet of white freesias, white violets and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. James MacKenzie Coate, Abington, was matron of honor and wore a gown of violet taffeta, strapless bodice with long full skirt with hoops. She wore a matching taffeta cape and cap and carried a bouquet of purple violets.

Bridesmaids were the Misses Alice and Cynthia Kester, of Newtown, sisters of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Charles Nabagum. The gown of Miss Alice Kester was made identical to that of the matron of honor and the same color with FOUR CIVIL ACTIONS FILED IN BUCKS CO.

One is Result of A Motor Crash at Oxford Valley, February, 1951

TRESPASS SUMMONS

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 10 — Four civil actions have been filed in the court of common pleas, including a damage suit in which the plaintiff and defendant are both non-residents in the county, but Oxford Valley was the scene of the car crash; and three divorce suits.

A Doylestown mother, Miriam S. Schall, is suing her husband, William F. Schall, 4429 Germantown avenue, Philadelphia, for a divorce. They were married June 25, 1943, in Elkton, Md.

Raymond V. Texter, Jr., Reading, is being sued for a divorce by his wife, Lois R. Texter, Plumsteadville. They were married in Dublin March 6, 1948.

Michael Stadnycki, Butler street, Chalfont, has named his wife, Dorothy A. Stadnycki, 46 Hillside avenue, Souderton, the defendant in a divorce action. They were married in Bethlehem Feb. 17, 1949.

Herbert Demchick, Philadelphia, in an action in trespass, has named Clyde Barnett, Maywood, N. J., the defendant and is claiming $454.05. The plaintiff was going north Feb. 23, 1951, at Oxford Valley, where a collision with the defendant's vehicle, which was traveling south, took place.

Writ of summons in trespass: Mary A. Dodge, 176 McKinley street, versus Neibauer Bus Co., 1529 Farragut avenue, all of Bristol.

COUNCIL TO MEET

Bristol Borough Council will meet this evening at eight o'clock in the municipal building. Burgess J. F. Hetherington, Sr., stated today that he expects that the budget will be brought up for consideration at this meeting.

What Others Say . . .

“Me Too” GOPers Use Mush, Baloney, To Prevent Senator Taft's Nomination”

Because of the great interest in the question of what the deep South thinks about the Republican possibilities for the presidential nomination, the following editorial is reprinted from the Fort Lauderdale (Fla.) Daily News, issue of February 26:

Florida voters once again last week heard one of the “siren singers” of the Republican Party warning up his seductive voice to get back on the same old “me too” trail that has proved disastrous in three straight national elections.

This time it was Sen. James H. Duff who came down here to preach the doctrine that Sen. Taft has no chance to win and that the only salvation of the Republican Party lies in the nomination of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Duff, in a high state of emotion, charged that party bosses were leading his party to ruin by trying to force the nomination of a candidate other than Eisenhower.

This charge is typical of the vast amount of pure baloney that is being tossed out these days by Republican liberals who for the past

Devotions of Class Are Entitled “Our Bible”

EMILIE, Mar. 10—Thirteen members of the Friendly Helpers Sunday School class, Emilie Methodist Sunday School, were entertained at the home of Mrs. Jay Hook, Edgely, Thursday evening. Mrs. Robert Baker presided. The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. John Kilian. Devotions entitled “Our Bible” were in charge of Mrs. Joseph Haag. Secretary's report was given by Mrs. Nelson Simon, treasury balance by Mrs. Horace Booz.

Mrs. Samuel Miller was appointed to secure special music for the class for Sunday School on June 1. A sum of $5 was voted to be given to Red Cross.

Plans were made for the Lenten service, Mar. 12th, to be conducted by the class. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Samuel Miller.

SEVEN PAROLES GRANTED BY JUDGE

Two of The Seven Are Given To Bristol Area Residents

JUDGES OFFICIATE

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 10 — President Judge Hiram H. Keller and Judges Edward G. Biester and Edwin H. Satterthwaite, Friday, in Quarter Sessions Court, granted seven paroles.

They include the following: John E. Richmond, 34, Sellersville, who was sentenced to serve not less than 30 days, by Judge Satterthwaite, was paroled. He was arrested by a Sellersville policeman and charged with operating his car while drunk, and was sentenced Feb. 5, but has been in jail since Jan. 12.

Richard Starnes, 21, Bristol, RD, who was sentenced by Judge Keller April 3, 1951, to serve from 11 to 23 months for receiving stolen goods, was paroled. Chief of Police Joseph O. Seader, of Bristol twp., arrested the defendant who had a gun in his possession.

Walter Weaver, Jr., 23, Upper Black Eddy, who was sentenced by Judge Biester, Nov. 26, 1951, was directed not to operate his car or apply for an operator's license while on probation. He has five or six motor code violations, according to his record, and was

Plan for Annual Session, Possibly at Edgely; No Parade

FIGURES BY MARSHAL

Fire Loss in Bucks County During Past 3 Months Is $64,260

LACEY PARK, Mar. 10 — Tentative plans for the annual meeting of Bucks County Firemen's Association, minus a parade, were made when members of that organization met here Saturday evening. At this quarterly meeting, nominations of officers was in order; report of Bucks County fire marshal and Bucks County Rescue Squad, Croydon, heard, and several fires of an unusual nature discussed.

Thirty-two companies were represented, with Charles Roberts, of Newtown, presiding. He called upon Mr. Brenner, president of Lacey Park Co., for welcome to the visiting firemen; and Fire Marshal Robert Graham, Chalfont, for the invocation.

It is anticipated that the annual meeting in June will be held in Edgely Fire Co. station. The parade will be omitted this year. There was some discussion, however, regarding possibility of a display of antique fire-fighting equipment sometime this year at Doylestown.

The report of Fire Marshal Graham for December, January and February, showed fire loss in the county of $64,260; insurance on such property being $194,000; property at risk, $550,150. The 127 alarms included the following: Houses, 21; apartment house, 1; barns, 4; diner, 1; fields, 53; trees, 3; trucks, 2; false alarms, 11; workshop and garage, 1; automobiles, 6; electric motors, 3; special services, 2; oil, 1; factory, 1; dumps, 3; awnings, 1; tool shed, 1; ware-houses, 2; offices, 2; Christmas tree, 1; bakery, 1; oil burners, 2; chimneys, 3; laboratory, 1. Firemen injured: John McIntyre, cut hand, and Joseph McIntyre, sprained ankle, both of Cornwells Fire Co.; Francis Frankendorf, Upper Black Eddy Co., foot injured while attempting to board fire truck.

Two hundred were present for the meeting.

The members discussed instances in which firemen have been injured while attempting to board fire trucks. Fires discussed included one barn fire at Cornwells Heights in which two horses were destroyed, said to be allegedly being set by children; the Shull warehouse fire, in Falls township, with much credit given Falls Township Fire Co. members and county detectives for

WEEK-END ACCIDENTS

A tremendous increase in traffic accidents on Saturday and Sunday since the end of World War II grimly underscores the fact that these are the most dangerous days for driving.

Quite naturally, week-end outings have grown in popularity as many more families have acquired cars and now also enjoy the extra leisure that is provided by the five-day week. So, more than at any other time except national holidays, most American families are on wheels on week-ends, pleasure bent.

It is especially tragic, therefore, that so many of these happy outings are marred by a fatal or serious accident. Unfortunately, too often the family driver doesn't realize that week-ends are the time when dangerous drivers are out in full numbers — speeding drivers, reckless drivers, drinking drivers, inexperienced drivers and inconsiderate drivers who won't yield an inch — along with a full harvest of law-abiding motorists.

Holidays are notorious for their shockingly long lists of dead and injured. But drivers must also bear in mind that all week-ends, especially in the summer and during the months of good weather, are in effect "little holidays" that claim vast numbers of victims in traffic accidents. Last year nearly 5,000 men, women and children were killed and 650,000 injured in week-end mishaps on the highways — mishaps that for the most part could have been avoided if the drivers involved had used a little more care, a little more patience, and much more regard for the traffic rules, others in the car should take action. That isn't back-seat driving; it is just self-reservation.

To that we say amen.

The cost of living index is alleged to be at a standstill, but the one cannot be said of the cost of taxes index.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Nov. 5, 1903. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

LANGHORSE—A reception will be given by Sorosis on Saturday evening to welcome the new gentlemen associate members who are Allen R. Mitchell, Dr. Henry Lovett, Charles W. Sharples, Edgar Hazlett Porter and Pierson S. Fretz.

ATTLEBORO—Joseph Lenike has purchased the property on Bellevue avenue owned by the Jesse Knight estate and occupied by Mrs. Harriet Reese.

HULMEVILLE—On Saturday afternoon two horse races took place on the Trenton road above Hulmeville which quite a number of people had the pleasure of seeing. The first race was between a horse owned by Samuel J. Carmon, of Bensalem, and one owned by Newton Finney, of Hathor. The race was the best two in three heats. Carmon's horse took the first two heats. The next race was between a horse owned by William Vansant, of Bensalem, and one owned by Henry Douglass, of Hulmeville, and was a very close race, notwithstanding the fact that Douglass' horse was handicapped by a four-wheel wagon while the other horse had a two-wheeled road cart.

EMILIE—Miss Dora Lovett has raised a prize pumpkin weighing seventy-eight pounds and measuring five feet three inches in circumference.

EDDINGTON—Gunners report rabbits plentiful. Frank Vandegrift shot eight on Monday.

OXFORD VALLEY—While walking along the Cut-Off near Dunlap station on Saturday night Watson Potts was run over by a train, cutting off one foot and injuring his head. He was removed to St. Francis Hospital, Trenton, where he died Sunday afternoon.

NEWPORTVILLE—The following visitors have been registered at the Newportville Hotel: Mrs. E. Roche, Mrs. James Dugan, Mrs. H. Boyle, Mrs. Howard King, Mrs. Hugh Ward, Misses Anna and Mary McEwaine, Mrs. Dennis McGee, Mrs. McNulty, Mrs. Dennis Boyle, and John Dugan.

Street Commissioner Whiteley is engaged in opening the fire plugs and flushing the sewers.

Rev. Father Walsh, of St. Mark's Church, Bristol, has been removed to St. Malachy's Church, Philadelphia.

Charles Pope has received the contract for laying a new dance floor in the basement of Mechanics' Hall.

Trolley Car, No. 10, of the Bristol-Morrisville line, known as the "Thunderbolt," will make a re-appearance today, but will hardly be recognized. The car was completely dismantled at the Penn Valley shop and practically reconstructed. It is painted dark green with light trimmings, corresponding in appearance to cars Nos. 14 and 15.

The third rehearsal by the Bristol Choral Society of Handel's "Messiah" took place last evening. The organization is stronger this year than ever before, having eighty-five members from Bristol. It is the intention to go on the platform with one hundred voices, and the chorus will be augmented for the rendering by singers from Burlington, Trenton and Philadelphia. Too much credit cannot be given for the hearty co-operation given by the people of Bristol.

The regular monthly meeting of the Public School Board was held in the directors' room in the high school building last evening. The directors present were J. K. Wildman, E. H. Foster, M. D. Harrison, W. H. Hall, H. S. Rue, Richard Myers, P. J. Barrett, D. A. Barrett, Doron Green. The treasurer reported having received the State appropriation, which amounted to $5,171.29, of which amount $246.25 was on account of the special and $4,925.04 the regular appropriation. Also received from Fred I. Kraft, delinquent tax collector, $375, and from non-residents for tuition, $825. Superintendent Louise D. Baggs was given full power to act in the matter of preparing an exhibit of the children's work to be displayed at the World's Fair at St. Louis next year.

What Others Say

anathema to these Republican liberals. They can't stomach Bob Taft for the plain and simple reason that a Taft administration would set the liberals back on their heels and would mean an end to some of the fantastic nonsense we've been receiving, and paying through the nose for, under the masquerade of enlightened, democratic government.

These liberals fear Bob Taft for good reason. For almost 20 years we have had a condition in this nation where conservative voters have been left without a candidate on election day. Instead of being a party of opposition the Republicans have tried to peddle the same wares the Democrats have been selling and when voters have no real choice they will take an original over a carbon copy every time.

Now, however, there is a good chance that voters will finally get a clear-cut choice next November. If Bob Taft is nominated, there won't be any of this "me too" stuff. The issues between "creeping socialism" and conservative constitutional government will be clearly outlined, and for the first time in a long, long while the conservative voters will have somebody to represent them.

This isn't a very happy prospect for the liberals to contemplate. They would much prefer to have somebody other than Bob Taft in there pitching for the Republicans next November, and consequently they are pulling out all the stops in a frantic effort to keep Taft out of the picture.

That's why they are running all over the countryside crying that Taft can't win. That's why they are shouting their lungs out that the party bosses are trying to cram Taft down the people's throats. That's why they have latched on to the coattails of Gen. Eisenhower in the hope that a "ghost" candidate of hero proportions will come to their rescue.

We believe that Gen. Eisenhower knows what these "fancy Dans" are up to. He has been around long enough to know that these men wouldn't be flocking around him unless they were desperate. They have nobody in their own ranks who could draw a nickel's worth of public support. So they have gone outside their ranks to champion a military hero whom the people greatly admire, but whose political leanings and beliefs still need to be greatly clarified.

Since "Ike" won't come home to speak his own mind, these "phony" Republicans are trying to speak it for him. Since he won't campaign for the Republican nomination, they are campaigning for him.

The whole deal isn't working as well as they anticipated. The American people like Gen. Eisenhower, but they are refusing to be stampeded by his banner under the present setup. And in the meantime Sen. Taft keeps plugging away, frank in his desire to win the presidency, and open and above board in his campaign.

Unless the liberal Republicans can persuade "Ike" to come home and start campaigning they realize that all may be lost. Now Bob Taft has suddenly become a vicious tool of unnamed "party bosses." His election will make foreign countries mistrust us and plunge us into war. Worst of all, according to the liberals, the great social reforms of the past two decades will be thrown into the discard and the whole country will backtrack once more into the dark ages of the pre-Roosevelt days.

That's all mush and baloney. It's a claptrap designed for the sole purpose of eliminating Bob Taft as a threat to the social reformers who are trying to remake our nation. They don't want any conservative candidate before the people. All they want are liberals pledged to the same course of action we've been following and they have the gall to say that it's not they, but Bob Taft, who is leading the Republican Party "down the drain again."

Four Are Given Divorce Decrees

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 10 — Three wives from Bristol, Perkaskie and Croydon, and a Croydon husband were granted divorces in the Court of Common Pleas here, Friday, by Judge Edward G. Biester. The three couples have seven children. Decrees will become final upon payment of costs in the Prothonotary's office.

Evelyn S. Long, 28, 30 South 4th street, Perkaskie, was granted a divorce from her husband, Richard K. Long, 28, of the American House, Perkaskie. They were married in Perkaskie in Trinity Lutheran Church by Rev. Norman V. Ritter, Jan. 23, 1943, and have an eight-year-old son.

Janet McCollick, 26, North Radcliffe street, Bristol, was granted a divorce from William McCollick, 30, 9 Schumacher drive, Bristol Terrace, No. 1. They were married in Baltimore, Md., Dec. 6, 1948.

Lucy Margaret Cottone, 35, 259 McKinley street, Bristol, was granted her freedom from Anthony Cottone, 44, 717 Mansion street, Bristol. They were united in marriage by a Catholic priest, Rev. Alfonso Palombi, Sept. 3, 1933, in Trenton, N. J. Three children, two of whom are girls, are involved.

Benjamin Gartner, 49, 504 Wyomington avenue, Croydon, was granted a divorce from his wife, Emma Gartner, 37, of the same address. They were married Jan. 27, 1934, in St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church, Croydon, by the rector, Rev. Thomas J. Nolan. They have three children, two of whom are sons.

WEEK-END CALLS

Ambulances of the Bucks County Rescue Squad transported during the week-end: Mrs. Dorothy Gratz, Edgely, to Nazareth hospital, Phila.; John Penny, 902 Orchard avenue, Croydon, returned from Abington hospital; Robert Engle, Torresdale Manor; to Jeanes hospital, Phila.; Mrs. Josephine Johnson, 703 Clymer street, to Mercy Douglass hospital, Phila.; Frank Bergmaier, Cornwells Heights, removed from the scene of an accident in Andalusia to Nazareth hospital, and later to Frankford hospital, where he was treated and removed to his home by his family and on Sunday afternoon, the Squad removed Mr. Bergmaier from his home to Nazareth hospital, where he is a patient; Mrs. Ruth Bowers, 712 Washington avenue, Croydon, to Abington hospital; Patrick McGonigle, 637 Pine street, to Nazareth hospital.

COMMUNICATION

Editor Courier:

If practically everything can be done as a second class township, that can be done as a first class township, then why don't the supervisors start by having an open meeting once a month and notify the public of the time and place so the taxpayers can present their problems to them.

At the present there are no open meetings or set time or dates or published information of supervisors meetings.

Under a first class township the commissioners hold an open meeting monthly at a given time and date.

The question is will it be too expensive to operate as a first class township with five commissioners with an annual salary of $200 to $600 or as a second class township with three supervisors with an annual salary of $48 to $144 with the power to appoint themselves roadmasters and set their own salaries. Salaries are unknown.

It would be well for the taxpayers of Bensalem to check the running expenses and note the flexibility of the government of the Bristol township that has operated as a first class township for one year.

Aeromodelers Attend Meeting of Federation

Bristol Aeromodelers members attended a meeting of the Bucks County Federation of Model Airplane Clubs held last week at Glenside, where they acted as representatives to their club.

Among various issues discussed and voted upon were the closing of the club's charter to its present group and accepting only clubs within the border of Bucks County in the future, and placing a ceiling of 25 on the number of independent members.

The date of the Bucks County Season's opener model 'plane meet was announced. It will be held on April 20th at Willow Grove, and will feature free flight, sailplane, hand launched glider, standard speed, stunt and beauty events for model 'planes.

Following this meet there will be model 'plane contests at Perkaskie, Annapolis, Maryland, Hempstead Long Island, Bristol, Allentown, Johnsville, as well as many others that are not yet scheduled which the Aeromodelers will attend.

A meeting of the Bristol Aeromodelers was held on Wednesday evening. Various details were discussed concerning the responsibilities of club leader members whom accept various administrative duties. A model flying session will be held Sunday.

FALLSINGTON

Falls Twp. Fire Co Auxiliary will conduct a meeting Mar. 11th at eight p. m. in the fire station.

Report to Metropolitan Policyholders for 1951

THE importance of Life insurance and its relationship to the lives of the people of the United States and Canada cannot effectively be portrayed by figures in a balance sheet. Cold figures can never adequately show human needs and their fulfillment. It is important, therefore, to try to interpret these figures in terms of the millions of people they represent and the millions who benefit by the use of the services rendered by the Company and its Agents. The Metropolitan was serving 33,373,000 Life insurance policyholders at the close of the year.

The personal phases of Life insurance—for it is a highly personal business—are highlighted daily by dramatic instances. Sometimes they are so unusual as to give special emphasis to the part our business plays in the life of the United States and Canada. The following quotation from a letter from the son of a deceased policyholder, requesting the return of a policy on which claim had been paid, tells with simple sincerity a moving story of a Life insurance policy, of the son's relationship with his father, and of a sound process of economic and social education:

"This policy . . . has for me possibly a greater sentimental value than it would have cash value . . . For you to understand this, you would have to know the years of close relationship and confidence that existed between my father and me. When I was a small boy, he would take me with him to his safety deposit vault . . . Always he stressed to me the importance of his insurance policy, how this piece of paper would some day have a cash value that might tide the family over in an emergency . . . Time has passed . . . but the sentimental worth of this piece of paper is constant in my thinking . . . I have always been told that business, especially Big Business, is hard and cold and rigid, but I know that this is not so, because business is made up of people. People with hearts and souls and loved ones, and people who have lost loved ones, and some who possibly think and feel the same way that I do."

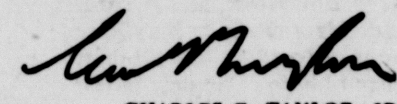

We were, of course, pleased to grant this unusual request.

The record sum of $924,000,000 was paid in benefits to policyholders and beneficiaries during 1951. This included payments of $141,000,000 on more than 1,250,000 claims (five times ten years ago) for Accident and Health and Disability benefits. A new high was also reached in Life insurance in force—$48,512,000,000, a gain of more than $3,000,000,000 over 1950.

More people than ever were protected last year by Metropolitan Accident and Health insurance. As the year closed, the Company had in force 3,270,000 policies or certificates providing weekly indemnity for disability of $86,000,000 per week. Hospital, Surgical or Medical Expense benefits were provided by 2,744,000 policies or certificates.

Another significant development during the year was the introduction of Extended Medical Coverage through Group insurance to protect people against abnormal hospital, surgical, and medical expense that might exhaust a family's entire savings.

genesis almost unlimited scientific and humanitarian uses.

Dr. Ehrlicke points out that the satellite theory is supported by hundreds of years of astronomical research.

He says: "The only things needed are teamwork, facilities and money for the final experiment. Scientific preparations are complete, nothing needs to be invented and all necessary elements are available."

Dr. Ehrlicke estimates the cost of launching a manned, permanent satellite above the earth at one billion dollars. He says the project could be completed in ten years if it were top priorities in essential materials. He adds:

"Erection of such a satellite at present stage of development could be no major financial problem for any modern country like the United States."

Early rockets would be used to transport construction elements, followed by the satellite itself, and the body actually would be assembled in space.

The satellite, less than 60 feet in diameter, would travel in the same direction as the earth—counterclockwise—free, unpowered flight just as the moon does.

Dr. Ehrlicke believes that, once a satellite was in operation, it would be a hop, a jump, only ten days for a round trip. Mars would take two years and eight months to reach and return.

Orbiting the earth at 15,000 miles an hour, the satellite would make main sections of the globe visible regularly, others occasionally and the others not at all. Powerful telescopes would bring the visible sections into close view, and many details could be seen.

In wartime, Dr. Ehrlicke maintains, enemy forces would be driven underground and forced to rely on overcast skies or night to find their movements.

As for peacetime, Dr. Ehrlicke says astronomical observation from the satellite would disclose new ranges in stellar spectra not visible from the earth because of atmospheric absorption. Accuracy of weather forecasts could be greatly increased by over-all observation of the earth's surface.

Rescue parties could be directed accurately to remote points of distress. Many medical mysteries could be solved, such as man's ability to stand and adjust himself to a state of complete weightlessness—would exist on a free-falling satellite.

Proper calculations would permit ferry ships to leave earth and set the traveling satellite at a given location after an hour-long flight. The ferry could adjust its speed to pull even with the satellite and then travel unpowered alongside it.

Dr. Ehrlicke believes construction could take not more than about a month for the satellite. The satellite, it might be in the shape of an automobile wheel, the rim acting as insulation against deadly cosmic rays, the hub as living quarters and few spokes as connecting tunnels to the hub.

Once completed, the satellite could be deserted to travel in space unattended for long periods and could be occupied as desired.

Dr. Ehrlicke's space studies are more or less a spare-time project. A graduate of the Technical University of Berlin's School of Aeronautics, he was only 24 years of age when he joined the work on the V-2 guided missile with which the Germans bombarded London in 1944.

At the close of World War II, he was one of more than 400 German scientists scooped up by the Allies in "Operation Paperclip," a project for grabbing them before the Russians did. His work for Uncle Sam—first at Fort Bliss, Texas, and now at Redstone—has been for one purpose: development of military guided missiles and rockets.

All of it is a means to an end for Dr. Ehrlicke, who says "Interplanetary travel is a task to which I have dedicated my life." He explains: "Designing of weapons is just a state which has to be gone through. Human beings have always used their intelligence to bring life to a higher pitch. This is one of the most spectacular means to do it."

County Firemen Hold Nomination; Hear Reports

locating the one charged with arson in the case.

Andrew Kline, representing the Inter-County Federation of Volunteer Firemen, spoke on various acts now before the state legislature which affect firemen.

Tentative plans were made for setting up a fire pumping school in the county this summer. The committee named includes: Raymond Strunk, Quakertown; Lloyd Crouthamel, Dublin; Harrison Etinger, Newtown. The committee appointed to meet with the county committee in regard to fire police activities includes: Fred Hibbs, Edgely; Clifford Beck, Doylestown; and Raymond Strunk.

Committee members reported progress on proposed amendments to the by-laws. The sum set aside by the government for federal civilian defenses was also mentioned.

Those nominated to office are: President, Charles Roberts, Newtown; vice-presidents—1st, Leonard Roberts, Trevoise; 2nd, George Bilger, Hulmeville; 3rd, Robert Goulding, Erwinna; secretary, Clifford Shearer, Quakertown; financial sec'y, Lawrence Gilmore, Lahaska; treasurer, Louis C. Leedom, Yardley; trustees—Frank Fanst, New Hope, Mr. Ervin, Cornwells Heights, Thomas K. Schatt, Hulmeville, Edwin Fly, Chalfont; fire marshal, Robert Graham, Chalfont; delegate to Penna. State Firemen's Ass'n convention, Scranton, Oct. 7th-8th, Paul McBride, Feasterville, with Robert Brenner, Edgington, alternate. Election will take place in June.

The financial secretary reported 587 members; 314 paid-up; 24 companies affiliated; 12 new members; and 19 new members since the last meeting.

The report presented by Harry A. Eckert, Jr., on behalf of Bucks Co. Rescue Squad, for December, January and February, showed there were 434 calls answered. Sick and injured transported totaled 456; road accident calls, 67; industrial accident, 69; drownings, 2; suicide, 3; gas asphyxiation, 4; oxygen administered, 21; oxygen tent calls, 13; searches, 2; fire calls for rescue truck and ambulance, 9; blood donated, 135 pints; mileage of three ambulances, 14,936; mileage for rescue truck, 155; man hours by personnel, 6,752.

The report further stated: "As of March 1st, we handled our 15,000th call after 20 years of service." It was stated that the squad ambulances have travelled in that period 535,510 miles. Mr. Eckert reported that the squad has three radio-equipped ambulances and a base capable of sending or receiving over a radius of 30 miles or more; also two "walkie-talkies" with range of six miles on the same wave length. "We feel we are one of the foremost volunteer units in eastern United States," the report concluded.

Seven Paroles Granted By Judge

charged with failure to stop at the scene of an accident, which consisted of striking a car on the river road. He was given not more than 23 months.

George Hriczo, 19, Trevoise, who is AWOL from the Army, was sentenced by Judge Keller, June 8, 1951, to serve not less than 11 nor more than 23 months after stealing money and liquor from the Hill-top Club.

William Laderer, 53, Churchville, RD. who was sentenced by Judge Blester to serve not more than 23 months following pleading guilty to assault and battery and open lewdness, was paroled.

John L. Schaffer, 20, Richlandtown who was sentenced by Judge Blester, Nov. 28, 1951, to serve not less than three nor more than 18 months, was paroled. He pleaded guilty to stealing tools and gasoline and was arrested by the Quakertown borough police.

John W. Ems, 43, Bristol, RD. 3, who was sentenced by Judge Blester, October 1, 1951, to serve from 9 to 18 months in the County Prison, was paroled. He began his sentence May 19, 1951, and was arrested by Bristol Township patrolman Bentley Chapin on charges of involuntary manslaughter and drunken driving.

Women's Auxiliaries Raise Over $16,000

the next meeting in June at Edgely. Mrs. William L. Stackhouse, Doylestown, will install the new officers.

Fourteen auxiliaries reported donating over $16,000 to Fire Companies: Cornwells Heights, $500; Doylestown, $1,000; Dublin, $500; Erwinna, $150; Edgely, $1,000; Midway, $2,500; Perkase, $75; Newtown, $500; Pennel, $1,900; Quakertown, $750; Trevoise, $2,000; Wycombe, $1,000; Pennel, $1,000; Edgington, $3,400. An additional $160 was mentioned following the meeting by an unidentified auxiliary.

An auditing committee was appointed as follows: Mrs. Richard Johnson, Quakertown; Mrs. C. Clifford Beck, Doylestown; Mrs. Samuel Colbert, Trevoise.

The meeting opened with prayer by the chaplain, Mrs. Jean Whyte, Cornwells Heights. Words of welcome were given by Mrs. Brooks, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary at Lacey Park.

Two new members were accepted—Mrs. Doris Stake and Mrs. George Whorton, both of Edgely.

The best attendance was marked by women of Midway Company at Lahaska, with 11 members present. Nineteen reports were given by individual auxiliaries of the county. Various ways of making money were discussed. The average attendance reported by the local units was between 20 and 30.

ers, Robert, of Rhode Island, and Alfred, of Chicago, Ill.

The Rev. W. N. Stauffer, of Ephrata, will conduct the service at two p. m. Wednesday, at the funeral home of J. Maurice Tomlinson, Cornwells Heights. Friends may call Tuesday evening. Burial will be made in Beechwood Cemetery.

The other man found dead was Fred Gifford, 51, an employee of Ferguson & Edmondson Co., which firm is constructing a railroad siding in Falls township. Gifford was found dead Saturday evening in the firm's work camp in Falls township. Death is attributed to coronary occlusion. Gifford was a resident of Mt. Union. The body was removed to the funeral home of John C. Black, here.

volved on Route 413A, two miles south of Pottsville.

State Troopers Robert Daubert and Michael Metroka said the car in which the women were occupants was struck from behind when the driver slowed down to avoid hitting a dog.

The injured women were Marguerite M. Spotts, 20, the driver, of Bleigh st. near Walker, internal chest injuries; Barbara Hammerle, 18, of Bleigh st. near Walker, possible fracture of right arm, and Patricia A. Scott, 19, of Frankford ave. near Rhawn st., all of Philadelphia, head lacerations. The Treveson Heights Rescue Squad removed the injured to Nazareth hospital, where they were treated.

Norman Haeblerle, 17, of Reach st. near Wyoming ave., a passenger in the second car, suffered a back injury. Christian R. Vogt, 18, of Weymouth st. near Cheltenham ave., both of Philadelphia, the driver, was uninjured.

Newtown Man Is Wed At Friends Ceremony

matching cape and cap. Miss Cynthia Kester and Mrs. Nahrung were guests of lime green taffeta, also made as above, with the same matching capes and caps with full skirts and hoops. All carried bouquets of purple violets.

Mr. Stephen Kester, Newtown, was best man for his brother; and ushers were Mr. James MacKenzie Coate, Abington; Mr. Paul Cobble, Jackson Heights, N.Y.; and Mr. Robert Lloyd Tomlinson, brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride chose an aqua crepe floor length gown, with which she wore a pink straw hat trimmed with pink flowers. Her corsage was of pink camellias. The mother of the bridegroom was gowned in a periwinkle blue floor length gown trimmed with brilliant, her hat white trimmed with brilliant. Her corsage was of white camellias. Mrs. Reuben Kester, grandmother of the bridegroom, chose a gown of royal blue crepe, with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

The bride is an alumna of Pennsylvania College, Brown University, where she received her A.B. degree, and Drexel Institute of Technology, Phila., where she received her M.S. degree. The bridegroom is a graduate of George School and Earlham College, Richmond, Ind. and is currently serving with the U.S. Army, stationed at Baltimore, Md.

A reception in the John Barnes room adjoining the Meeting House followed the ceremony.

Present Awards At Squad Dinner

Heller-Hibbs Wedding Is A Saturday Event Locally

For her marriage to Mr. Lester C. Heller on Saturday, Miss Shirley Hibbs, N. Radcliffe street, effected a creation of white satin lace. The vows, uniting the daughter of Mr. Earl J. Hibbs, Bristol, and the son of Mr. LeRoy Heller, Morrisville, were taken in the First Methodist Church, at 4 o'clock before the Rev. Rowland Jackson, pastor, and a company of bridesmaids and friends. Mr. Hibbs escorted his daughter to the altar. The bride wore a gown of white lace over satin, this having long sleeves of lace; illusion neckline lined with iridescent sequins; beads forming medallions; and a satin skirt, with long train. On her head she wore a crown of white roses and lavender orchids, and a shower of white rose-buds. The bride entered the edifice following three vocal selections by John Van Soest, Hayes Street, pianist was Mrs. Rowland Car-

by incorporating Senator Kefauver's astonishing address in the everlasting pages of the Congressional Record.

The world's great orators, from Cicero and Demosthenes on down, have always sought to build up to a climax. They started on the plains of ordinary ideas and language, and built up to a pinnacle of lofty sentiments eloquently expressed.

Senator Kefauver has perfected a different technique. He starts at the top and works down. He opened his remarks on the high note of nationalism, wended his way down tortuously through the concepts of Jefferson and Jackson, and wound up in the gutter of partisanship, mouthing once again the tattered and tarnished fabrications first launched by that king of hatchetmen, Charley Michaelson.

"We are met at a challenging time," Senator Kefauver began. And he went on from there to trace the origins of this nation, the seeds of its greatness, the wisdom of Jefferson and the belligerent democracy of Jackson.

But ultimately Senator Kefauver coasted down to the dirt and mud, and became just one more smart-aleck doing what the New Dealers have termed "going after the red-neck vote." "The Republican Party," he wisecracked, "has strained its neck looking, not upward, but backward. . . I'm not saying that the Republican party lacks a mentality. The only trouble is that it is an antique mentality. . . It is the kind of mentality which would have been a great hit in ancient Egypt, for there people worshipped the dead and enshrined the past."

Low spot of the harangue was the closing paragraphs, where, for the act of protesting a biased magazine article, he accused Senator McCarthy of "a blow aimed at the freedom of the press."

All this goes far deeper than the mere question of the high record conferred upon Senator Kefauver by the TV audiences, and the sensational manner in which he now demonstrates that his temporary reputation for temperate judgment and a judicious mind is wholly misplaced.

It is vastly significant in this (as he says) "challenging time" when the American people must decide whether to drift on down to Socialism and bankruptcy under the tutelage of the Pendergast gang—or unite in a courageous stand against the things which President Truman represents, and which Senator Kefauver at least superficially pretends to oppose.

For several years it has been quite obvious that there might arise, out of the new "middle border," that lying between the North and the South, some great leader who could reunite the sundered nation under the Constitution, and offer to work out a solution to such great issues as labor, race, finances, and all the others, along the lines contemplated by our forefathers, not those invented by Marx and Lenin. Obviously, such a man would have to win some of his support from the Republicans.

For a matter of days after the taking office of President Truman, many believed him to be such a man. From time to time others—George of Georgia, Russell of Georgia, Byrd of Virginia, McKellar of Tennessee, even Barkley of Kentucky—have showed signs that, under some circumstances, they might be of a mind to make the good fight, regardless of consequences, including loss of patronage.

And so for a time with Kefauver. But nothing can be more clear, after scanning his address, than that this is no farewell-to-patronage venture into doing or dying for patriotic motives. What Kefauver has in mind becomes crystal-clear. He's in there to try to splinter off enough votes to deadlock the election between Republicans and Democrats, and then he and his friends can bargain in Congress for the presidential decision. Shades of Aaron Burr!

So much has been said about the possibility of the Republicans sometime splitting the solid South, that it is important for political strategists not to be fooled by the coonskin-cap antics being put on by Senator Kefauver.

This isn't a down-to-earth campaign. It's just footwork. It's just a strategic stunt put on by Kefauver for the purpose of advancing his own political interests, not for the wellbeing of the nation.

Ultimately, his activities will hurt the Republicans far more than help them. The truth of the matter is that Tennessee is one of the great potentials of the Republican Party. It's all very well for Senator Kefauver to mock the Republicans, and to turn his thinking back to the level of the famous Scopes trial, which took place in his district.

Tennessee is far more awake to the world situation than Kefauver's remarks might lead you to believe. For years it has sent two Republicans to Congress as part of its ten-man delegation. Twice within memory of this generation it voted Republican in a national election—once in 1920 and again in 1928.

Given a chance, it might easily do so again. But that appears to be where Kefauver comes in—not to give it that chance!

BRISTOL HIGH NOSES OUT CENTRAL BUCKS TEAM

WARRIORS WIN FIRST ROUND OF PIAA BATTLE

NORRISTOWN, Mar. 10—An underdog Bristol High team came from behind to nose out Central Bucks High (Doylestown) to gain the first round of the Pennsylvania interscholastic Athletic Association tournament. Bristol meets Coatesville High tomorrow night in a second round game of District 1, with the winner playing Chester High for the championship of the district on Thursday night. The latter games are scheduled for the Penn. Palestra.

Every inch of available space in the Stewart Junior High School, here, was filled as the determined Bristol High basketball team came from behind to notch the one-point, 36-35, triumph.

The Warriors gained the victory after an uphill fight. Coach Ben Watson's lads were behind from the start until Andy Accardi tied the score with 3½ minutes remaining to be played. After the fielder, Bob Strobele followed with a foul and Bristol took the lead which it kept for the remaining minutes of the fracas.

Bristol got off to a very poor start and did not score a field goal in the first quarter although it converted three of its seven foul shots. Andy Accardi, Strobele and Gallagher missed shots that were usually two pointers on the Bristol court. In the meantime, "Big Jim" Radcliff was going strong for the Doylestown aggregation.

The only consolation Bristol had in the first session was that Radcliff had committed three personal fouls, all within the first four minutes of playing. Radcliff was the whole Doylestown team in the first half as he controlled the boards and accounted for 9 of the 17 points. Bristol had quite a bit of difficulty in stopping the lanky Doylestown center who stands close to 6' 5".

Central Bucks jumped into the lead early in the game as Wilbur Wright was fouled and awarded a free shot. He converted to give Central Bucks a 1-0 lead. Shortly after, Don Fritz passed to Radcliff who scored under the net, making it 3-0. Accardi was fouled and made one of his two shots to reduce the lead to 3-1. After Accardi and Gallagher missed fouls, Jerry Lee converted a Doylestown foul. The lead jumped to 6-1 when Radcliff scored on a left-handed shot. Strobele made a Bristol foul but Radcliff got it back for Doylestown, making the count, 7-2. Fritz added a two-pointer for the Buccaneers to lift the score to 9-2 and as the quarter ended, Strobele dunked a foul to put Bristol behind by six points, 9-3.

At the start of the second period, Accardi scored the first Bristol goal after stealing the ball from Ed Redfield. However, Radcliff got a two-pointer for Doylestown, making the count 11-5. Stevens' set shot sliced the Doylestown lead to 11-7 but on a rebound off the board, Wright scored. Gallagher added a foul to Bristol's total but before the half was over, Radcliff and Redfield scored double-doubles to give Bob Finn's team a 9-point lead, 17-8.

Bristol's hopes grew dimmer at the beginning of the third quarter as Redfield took one step after receiving the tap-off and scored. Bristol came back strong as Loud hit on a set shot, Accardi scored after Gallagher missed and Loud again cut the cords on a pass from Stevens. The trio of goals cut the Central Bucks' lead to 19-14. After a throw-in, Wright counted for Doylestown and Radcliff on a tap-in scored to again put the Doylestown lead to nine points, 23-14.

Stevens scored from side court for the Warriors. Redfield converted a foul and shortly after, Radcliff missed a foul but followed it up and scored a fielder, making the count 26-16, the largest lead of the game. Strobele scored from side court and Stevens dropped in a foul. Accardi was fouled while shooting and after sinking both, the score was 26-21. Radcliff and Strobele both scored, bringing the count to 28-23. Before the session was over, Accardi and Strobele missed "duck" shots which would have given Bristol the lead.

The ball went to Strobele on the lead early in the game as Wilbur Wright was fouled and awarded a free shot. He converted to give Central Bucks a 1-0 lead. Shortly being 29-25. Harold Loud scored on a set shot to cut the lead to 29-27. Radcliff had an easy goal from under the net, the score going to 31-27. Strobele's foul conversion put the Warriors three points behind, 31-28. The tempo of the game increased as Accardi made two foul shots to reduce the lead to 31-30. Accardi missed a foul that would have tied the score but he was awarded two shots on the following play and dunked one to knot the count as the clock read 3½ minutes left to play.

Strobele was fouled for two shots. He made the first and missed the second but Accardi was under the basket and with an overhead shot scored the goal which gave Bristol its first commanding lead, 34-31. Bristol attempted a "freeze" but Central Bucks broke it up and on a pass from Fritz, Redfield scored from the side, making the count 34-33 with 1:45 left to play. Strobele on a pass from Frankie Manzo scored and Bristol again had its three-point lead, 36-33. Strobele's goal proved to be the winning points as Redfield scored for Central Bucks with one minute remaining. Radcliff had a chance to deadlock the count with 45 seconds left but he missed a foul throw. With two seconds left, Doylestown made one frantic effort to score and failed.

Accardi and Strobele were high for Bristol with 12 points each. However, the entire team-play of the Warriors was outstanding. Coach Watson put in Frank Manzo, a sophomore, in the final quarter and the aggressiveness shown by this youth was amazing. Harold Loud and Raul Stevens did well on the defense. "Jim" Gallagher had his hands full with Radcliff but turned in an outstanding performance.

There was no doubt that Radcliff was the whole Central Bucks team as he clicked for 18 points. Redfield contributed 9 points to the losing cause.

CLUBMEN'S ASSOCIATION
DART LEAGUE

The Mutual Aid Society has taken an early lead in the final playoffs of the Bristol Clubmen's Association Dart League. In the two matches that have been played so far the Mutual Aid aggregation has five points while the other playoff contender, the Loyal Order of Moose, has won three points. The final match of the playoffs will be played tomorrow evening at the Moose home. With four points at stake that night the Mutual Aid needs two points while the Moose must win all four points to gain the championship. The two outstanding players of the tournament so far have been "Hystie" Grimes of the Moose and Joe Luzzi of the Mutual Aid. Manager Leonard Egrandi and his assistant, "Fitty" Caucci, of the Wood street team, predict a close outcome in the final match. These two men have constantly urged their team on to victory and it appears that they are on their way to winning another championship. However, Jack Tally, of the Moose, will have his strongest team on hand for the final encounter.

There will be a meeting of all dart league managers this Friday evening at 7:30 p. m., at the No. 3 Fire Co. This meeting will precede the regular monthly meeting of the Clubmen's Association that night.

TWO GAMES ARE BOOKED TONIGHT IN COURT LEAGUE

With the tightest race in years now taking place, the Bristol Basketball League continues its schedule tonight with two games carded on the Goodwill Hose Company court. In the first encounter, starting at 7:30 o'clock, Cornwells Boys Club meets the Hibernians. The second tilt pits Hilltop against Rohm & Haas.

So close are the teams bunched that no playoff position is definitely decided, yet the teams only have two more games to play. In fact, at the present standing, the only team out of the race for the playoffs is Hilltop, although this team can still cause plenty of damage to Rohm & Haas and Franklin.

The Hibernians are one game away from the league-leading Cornwells team. The Hibs are in a triple deadlock for second place with Rohm & Haas and Luciano Brothers, while Prof's is in a tie with Fifth Ward for fifth place with Franklin one game behind these teams.

Manager Pete Harkins will put his best defense in order in an effort to stop Jim Caskey who has been the shining light in the Cornwells lineup. Caskey must play tonight and in next week's game in order to be eligible for the playoffs. It is most likely that Bill Burr or Joe Roe will be assigned the task of stopping Caskey.

The Hilltop team is out of the running but is determined to beat the Rohm & Haas contingent. The latter team lost to Fifth Ward last week and is out to redeem itself.

The largest crowd of the season is expected as the teams enter their 13th week of play.

IT'S FOR GAME

Provided enough passengers can be secured, a bus will leave the Bristol High School tomorrow evening for the Bristol-Coatesville game at Penn. Palestra. Fans interested are requested to contact Athletic Director Jerry Bloom at the high school before noon tomorrow. Telephone number is 6161.
